To see a World in a Grain of Sand
And a Heaven in a Wild Flower
Hold Infinity in the palm of your hand
And Eternity in an hour...

By William Blake

Since its beginning my work has been a reflection on memory, remembrances and inner travel, which later became the real fact of displacement, migration, the search for identity and roots, its unifying thread has been and continues being, the journey.

Through these years of work I have built scenarios or series that are the reflection of my transit within the emotional and geographical displacement, creating images and metaphors of what surrounded me in those moments. My work transmutes from one subject to another, from one technique to another, with which I try to demonstrate these experiences, these skin changes, the mutations of being.

"Memory Beings" is the last series that I am developing where it is an intimate and very personal attempt to give life to the ghosts of memory, to the reunification with my personal roots through the primary beauty of nature.

Working with ceramic and porcelain had evoked memories on my childhood. Porcelain itself, keeps memory of its handling during work, as we humans keep memory of passage of time. With painting and drawing I initiated with an approach to the scribble, in an automatic way, seeking to explore into the unconscious and the intuitive as a creative exercise; it evolved into imaginary landscapes, coinciding with the return to the geographical landscape of my childhood in Ecuador.

These micro and macro worlds of the past and the present that are connected to a personal interest in quantum physics where all the process are related from its minimal forms like cells and organism to galaxies. Nothing is disconnected everything is related, as family of this planet, as beings of the universe.

These organic forms that I recreate are my homage to my roots, family and my love for nature.

A close-up photograph of a white ceramic lattice structure. The lattice consists of interconnected, irregularly shaped cells with a porous, honeycomb-like appearance. The cells are primarily white, but several of them feature a distinct teal or light blue coloration, particularly around the edges of the openings. The background is a soft, out-of-focus blue, suggesting a sky or a similar light blue environment. The overall composition is centered and fills most of the frame.

A close-up photograph of a person's hands tearing at a white fabric garment. The fabric is marked with various dashed lines in red, blue, and green, indicating where to tear. The person's hands are pulling the fabric apart, revealing the underlying structure. The background is a plain, light-colored surface.

Diana Valarezo (Guayaquil, Ecuador 1968) graduated at the Art School of the Central University of Ecuador, in 1991, with a Diploma at the CAFA in Beijing 2000, with Studies in Visual Anthropology at PUCP and Ceramic with Sonia Céspedes Rossel in Lima. Honored with 1st prize for the National Printing Competition at the House of Culture of Ecuador in 1993, 1st Honor mention at the Biennial in Lima 1997. Worked as cultural manager for "Positive Art Workshop" in Beijing in 2002-2003, "El Camión del Arte" in Ecuador in 2008-2009, and Yangon Art and Heritage Festival 2015-2017 in Myanmar.

Diana Valarezo is a multifaceted, Ecuadorian artist. Her nomadic life and her sojourns in China, Senegal, Peru and Myanmar have enhanced her reflection on the symbiosis and exchange between cultures and their reciprocal influences.

Diana's artistic practice is not static, or frozen through the use of a single medium, but travels as she does. She makes use of various media and techniques (painting, photography, engraving, installation, ceramic, performance...) to formalize her thoughts on the world. The shapes and colors become a pretext, a parenthesis to make us travel inside her creative world. She lives between Belgium and Ecuador.
